¹ The Danish ESF programme for 2007-2013 gives a broad framework for action, as long as the projects contribute to one of the four drivers of growth: Human resources, entrepreneurship, innovation and new technology. Some of the programmes mentioned here do receive funding. However it is not possible, since the data is not categorised, to identify the amount of funding which individual programmes mentioned have received. It should be noted that the level of ESF funding in general is low to very low compared to the national funding of apprenticeship schemes.

Apprenticeship within the dual system of vocational education according to the law on Vocational Education and Training (BBiG) (Berufsausbildung im dualen System nach dem Berufsbildungsgesetz, BBiG)	ongoing	ESF funding is directed to support programmes of the general system, e.g. the JOB STARTER programme ¹	In 2007, funding amounted to €4.6 billion for dual VET. ²	In 2007, federal states funding amounted to €3.2 billion, mainly accounting for the financing of vocational schools.	In 2007, employers contributed €23.8 billion.		In the period 1992-2011, approximately 12,277,700 new contracts were signed (BMBF 2012).	In 2011, 523,577 new contracts were signed (Destatis 2013a) and 1,460,700 apprentices were enrolled in the system in total (Destatis 2013b).	Between € 2000 and € 3100 for part-time vocational schools depending on the federal state	In 2007, gross costs per apprentice were estimated to be €15,300 per trainee. Net costs were estimated to be €3,600.

² Estimates of public funding for all vocational training measures including vocational preparation and continuing vocational training are estimated to be €13 billion. There are additional costs for school-based vocational training on national and federal level.

Main data sources in Member State: Hungary

Types:

Take-up Data: MKIK (Magyar Kereskedelmi és Iparkamara, Hungarian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, responsible for registering training contracts): their take-up data refer to number of students with a training contract valid for at least 1 day in the given school year, no numbers available by gender, and because their data are available only by qualifications pursued, not programme type - and this only since 2005/2006 (before that only aggregate numbers are available) -, the current number of apprentices participating in 3-year VET programmes is included under Scheme No 2 (the likewise 3-year early VET and dual training programmes launched in 2010/2012)

Financing Data: Ministry of National Economy - sent us a table specifying the approximate level of funding by source and the approximate total budget for 2010. We have not included funding for development financed by ESF assistance or the training sub-fund of the National Employment Fund*, nor the funding of the vocational school scholarship programme financed from the latter. 'Employer funds' refer to the amount that companies providing practical training deducted from the amount of their "training levy" called the 'vocational training contribution', payable in the form of 1.5% of the wage costs, plus the amount companies could reimburse from the training sub-fund of the National Employment Fund, which also derives its income from this vocational training contribution. [*Nemzeti Foglalkoztatási Alap, NFA, previously called Munkaerőpiaci Alap, MPA= Labour Market Fund until 31 Dec, 2011.]

Progression Outcomes and Effectiveness Data: Data derive from surveys prepared annually since 2009, aiming to assist the county (formerly regional) development and training committees in defining the 'directions and shares' of local VET provision. These surveys are carried out by the Institute for Economic and Enterprise Research of the MKIK, with the supervision of the MKIK. They are, however, not representative: they are based on a sample of young skilled workers who graduated in the previous year and participated in apprenticeship training in a vocation that was in high demand in the labour market. The sample included 4,000 graduates in 2009, 3,000 in 2010 and 2011, 2,000 in 2012 and again 3,000 in 2013. Data are not available by programme type (the samples included both vocational school and secondary vocational school graduates), neither by gender.

CVTS4: Eurostat's Continuing Vocational Training Survey 2010 - data was received from the Központi Statisztikai Hivatal (KSH, Central Statistical Office). The sample of the survey included about 7200 companies. All companies with at least 150 employees were surveyed, while the smaller ones were chosen based on stratified sampling.

EMMI (Emberi Erőforrások Minisztériuma, Ministry of Human Resources): their take-up data are available since 2001/2002 and refer to the number of apprentices on 1 October of the given school year.

FAS Apprenticeship ¹		An employer survey carried out in 2006-07 found 11% cent of Irish companies claimed to have 'ever used' the FÁS apprenticeship service (CEP, 2010)	74% completed the apprenticeship (based on registrants in 1999).	26% did not complete (based on registrants in 1999) 9% attended Phase 1 only; 6% attended up to Phase 2 only. Engineering had highest levels of incompletes (33%).	Four years after completion of the apprenticeship, 96% of qualified craftsperson were in employment (Conway, 2007).	Four years after completion of the apprenticeship, 2% of qualified craftsperson were in some form of further education or training (Conway, 2007); however 17% of craftspeople had undertaken some form of formal training/education after completion of their apprenticeship, with 17% undertaking degrees; 65% taking certificates; 5% diplomas (Conway,2007)	Four years after completion of the apprenticeship , 2% of qualified craftsperson were unemployed (Conway, 2007)
Redundant Apprentice Placement Scheme	Approx. 2,300 (in 2011) and 1,800 (in 2012) redundant apprentices have been placed in companies		Some 812 redundant apprentices had progressed in their apprenticeships and successfully completed all Phases 1 to 7 (and awarded FETAC Level 6 Advanced		Over 60% of participants found a job, mostly in their own trade, either in Ireland or abroad. One in three found a job in Ireland

¹As apprentices are already employed, FÁS does not monitor after-programme outcomes on a regular basis. Neither does the standard follow-up survey include them. However, a FÁS Follow up Survey, conducted in 2006/7, of Apprentices that registered in 1999 did examine post apprenticeship outcomes (Forfas, 2010).

APPRENTICESHIP-TYPE PROGRAMMES
Government Apprenticeship Programme (ISCED 3 & 5B)	Current programme 2012/13 year.	£181 million through Skills Funding Agency (2011-2013).	Minimum expected budgets for apprenticeships 2012 to 2013: England Ages 16 to 18 (DfE): £833mn, Ages 19+ (BIS): £690mn.		Adult apprenticeships are only 50% funded by the Government. The employer is expected to cover the remaining cost of off-the-job training delivered by the provider.		Forecast number of Apprentices in academic year 2012/13 is 890,000.	Provisional data show that there were 152,800 Apprenticeship starts in the first quarter of the 2012/13 academic year.	Apprenticeships budget (1 Apr 11-31 Mar 2012) - England Ages 16 to 18 (DfE): £779mn, Ages 19+ (BIS): £644mn.	Employers contribute a minimum of £3,000 and, in some cases, up to more than £30,000 in kind for each apprenticeship (House of Commons, 2012).	£16 (intermediate level) and £21 (advanced level) and £18 across all levels is the estimated economic returns to every £1 of public spending on apprenticeships (assuming training would not have occurred without public funding) (NAO, 2012).
Apprenticeship Grant for Employers (AGE)	2012-2013	ESF funding delivered through Skills Funding Agency Apprenticeships receive £181 million through Skills Funding Agency (2011-2013).	2012-13 budget is £31.8m (£12.6m 2013-14) Funded by BIS.				40,000 grants available	Provisional data shows that between Feb 2012 and Jan 2013, there were 20,800 Apprenticeship starts for which an AGE payment was made. A further 4,300 were in the pipeline (started but not yet paid).
Higher Apprenticeships	2009 onwards	£181 million for apprenticeships through Skills Funding Agency (2011-2013).	The Higher Apprenticeship fund is worth £25 million.				The Higher Apprenticeship Fund aims to fund over 11,000 higher apprenticeships and over 6,000 more will be funded from the apprenticeships budget, equivalent to almost 19,000. In 2011/12 there were 5,200 learners, of which 3,200 were female and 2,000 were male.	Provisional data shows 3,000 Higher Apprenticeship starts in the first six months of the 2012/13. academic year (August 2012 to January 2013). 3,700 start in 2011/12. (300 Higher Apprenticeship starts under 19 years and 3,400 19 years and over).

		EU/ESF	National Funds	Regional/ Local Funds	Employer Funds	Other; please specify			State	Employer	Total
Microsoft Partner Apprenticeship Programme	2009 onwards		Programme has leveraged over £30m in government funding.				Circa 3,500 apprentices completed or on programme since September 2009.			Management fee per intake of £750.
Rolls Royce Apprenticeship	Ongoing		BIS provided £6 million of financial support for construction of the basic skills training Academy in 2011.		Annually, Rolls-Royce invests around £1.2 million.		221 in 2012 planned.	183 apprentices in the UK and in 2012 recruitment of a further 221 were planned.	£70,000 plus pay and benefits to deliver each apprenticeship.
TRAINEESHIP PROGRAMMES
Work Experience programme	2011-2015		One element of a £1 billion government funded programme.				Circa 350,000 Work Experience places in total from Jan 2011 until Mar 2015, with around 100,000 a year for the three years 2012/13 to 2014/15.	5,110 work experience starts at May 2012.		Employers may incur costs related to the induction and supervision of the participant.
Future Jobs Fund (FJF)	2009-2011		The FJF committed £1 billion over less than a two-year period. Maximum DWP contribution of £6,500 per job.				Originally intended to support 170,000 jobs (later increased to 200,000), this was reduced to 100,000 in May 2010 as part of Government spending cuts for 2010/11 (CESI, 2011).	Zero (Discontinued programme)	Calculated by CESI (2011): Costs: £5,600 per participant Gross benefits: £5,072 per participant Deadweight of benefits: £3,417 per participant (67 per cent) Benefits less deadweight: £1,654 per participant (= £5,072 – £3,417) Net cost: £3,946 per participant (= £5,600 – £1,654), which equates to £9,176 per job outcome at a job outcome rate of 43% (CESI, 2011).
Sector-Based Work Academies	2011 - 2015	BIS ESF-funded skills provision used to support delivery.	One element of a £1 billion government funded programme: the ‘Youth Contract’.				No ring-fencing of places - demand-led.	Latest data showed 3,640 starts in November 2012.		There is no direct cost to an employer as the costs are covered by government funding.
Mandatory Work Activity (MWA)	2011 - onwards		Initial budget of £8mn from DWP. In June 2012 MWA received a £5mn expansion.				Initially, 19,000 MWA places per year were available. During February and March 2012, 3,750 extra places were made available in five Jobcentre Plus Districts. An expansion of MWA, announced in June 2012 provided an additional 9,000 places each year.	Latest data from August 2012 showed 7,030 referrals and 2,790 starts in the month.

		EU/ESF	National Funds	Regional/ Local Funds	Employer Funds	Other; please specify			State	Employer	Total
							Therefore in 2012/13 there will be approximately 28,000 places available.
Sandwich Courses	Ongoing						25,000 to 30,000 placements are undertaken each year.	Latest disaggregated data (2009/10) showed some 117,685 students were enrolled on sandwich courses.
HEFCE-Funded Graduate Internships scheme (GI)	2010 to 2011		Overall budget of £12.8 million. Funded by HEFCE.				8,500 internships delivered.			The majority of HEIs paid the funding to the employer.	HEIs received £1,600 funding per place.
Internship Programme Graduate Talent Pool (GTP)	2009 onwards		In the 2010 Pre-Budget Report - £8m funding for up to 10,000 new undergraduate internships.				Aim to support 5,000 internships, building on the 2,000 already achieved through HEFCE's Economic Challenge Investment Fund.	Currently, there are over 2,000 live vacancies on the GTP website.
HEFCE funded Undergraduate Internships in the Professions (UGIP)	2010		DfE budget of £1,002,020		The majority of the HEI delivery models did not require a financial input from employers.		852 undergraduate placements delivered.			The majority of HEIs used the funding to subsidise the employer.	HEIs were offered up to £1,000 funding per internship.

Government Apprenticeship Programme (ISCED 3 & 5B)	Since the start of the modern apprenticeship reform in 1994, one million apprentices have joined the programme.	About 160,000 workplaces in England have apprentices (NAS) - According to the National Employer Skills Survey (2009), 8% of establishments offered apprenticeships.		For 2010/11, success rate: 76.4%. For men, success rate: 75.7% (102,100). For women, success rate: 77.2% (98,200) ¹ . In 2011/12 there were 121,580 male framework achievements and 13,678 female achievements.				2005–06 Advanced Level Apprentices tracked For four years showed that 5.3% of the 2005–06 cohort progressed to HE immediately after their Apprenticeship. Rose to 13.1% when the same cohort was tracked for another 3 years.

Microsoft Partner Apprenticeship Program	c3,500 apprentices completed or on programme since Sept 2009.			Programme completion rates are 85%	15% do not complete the programme	80% of Apprentices take on newly created jobs.
Rolls Royce Apprenticeship		Rolls Royce has engaged smaller employers in its supply chain to deliver apprenticeships.		Over 85% successfully complete a Higher Education qualification. 98% successfully complete their training.	2% do not complete their programme.			Approx 50% progress to a full honours degree.
Work Experience programme	99,950 starts on work experience placements between January 2011 and November 2012.					16,000 young people completed the Work Experience scheme during the period January to August 2011 and of these, 55% subsequently stopped receiving benefits (HM Government, 2011).				Work Experience participants are 16% more likely to come off benefits after 21 weeks than non-participants and 28% more likely to be in employment (Parliament, 2012:87; House of Commons, 2012: 30).
Future Jobs Fund (FJF)	105,220 people entered FJF vacancies between October 2009 and March 2011. Some 33% of FJF participants in were female.				15% left their job before six months, however over 60% of early leavers ended their FJF job in order to start another job immediately.	43% of participants obtained a job outcome after FJF (CESI, 2011) 86% of job entrants had retained their job for 3 months or more, and 56% of job entrants would have stayed in work for one year or more (CESI, 2011).					67% of those entering work after an FJF job did so on temporary contracts (CESI, 2011).
Sector-Based Work Academies	36,770 (Between August 2011 November 2012) (14,140 females and 22,640 males).					No evaluation data but local example found that a College ran 12 Sector Based Work Academies in 2011/12 that resulted in 48% of learners securing employment with local employers.

Mandatory Work Activity (MWA)	From May 2011 to August 2012, there were 90,470 referrals (67,330 males 23,140 females) and 33,170 individuals started a placement (23,450 males and 9,730 females).					1 in 5 who started MWA did not complete the 4 week placement, with drop outs concentrated in the 1st week.				Starters were more likely to be on benefit 21 weeks after referral (20% of starters and 34% of non-starters).
Sandwich Courses	In 2009/10 8% of male and 4% of female HE students enrolled on sandwich courses.	A CBI survey found 66% of its member organisations had links with universities, of which almost half (47%) provided sandwich placements (cited in CRAC & Oakleigh, 2011).				Graduates from sandwich courses are more likely to enter employment 6 months after graduation (78% vs. 71%) (BIS, 2012).			Graduates from sandwich courses are less likely to be unemployed (8% vs. 9%) than other graduates (BIS, 2012).
HEFCE-Funded Graduate Internships (GI) Scheme	8,500 internships provided					28% had secured long-term employment with the internship employer and 18% had secured other long-term jobs.			15% were unemployed		14% were in temporary employment.
Internship Programme Graduate Talent Pool	Over 86,000 graduates have registered on the GTP website and 50,000 vacancies have been advertised. 50% of participants have been female (CRAC & Oakleigh, 2011).	Over 7,500 employers have registered on the Graduate Talent Pool website.				40% of those who completed internships entered long-term employment. Of these 22% were employed long-term by their internship employer and 18% by other employers.		After completion of the internship some 7% undertook a subsequent internship.	22% unemployed after completion of the scheme.		After participation in the scheme some 22% were in temporary employment.
HEFCE-Funded Undergraduate	1,011 beneficiaries.	Around 70% of the employers surveyed
