* A debate will take place among our Doctoral students concerning the most contentious aspects of the future of work. Students will be divided into small groups and will debate in front of a panel of distinguished arbitrators who are going to select the best “debater”. The main aim is to raise awareness of the multifaceted issues resulting from the changes that affect the world of work and to favour the interaction of students and professors, in order to further strengthen the idea of “School” our PhD program aims to pursue.
