

www.adapt.it - formazione@adapt.it

Curriculum vitae of Giovanni Maria Caccialanza

Areas of Expertise

POLITICAL AND SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY
THEORETICAL PHILOSOPHY
HERMENEUTICS AND PHENOMENOLOGY OF ACTION

Education

2019-now: Attendancy in the Higher Faculty of Philosophical Sciences at the University of Milan, with an average evaluation of 30/30.

(2016)-2019 – Bachelor degree in Philosophy (L-5), at the University of Milan, with the top evaluation of 110/110 cum laude, granted to a work in Philosophical Hermeneutics on the epistemological thought of Michel Foucault.

2019 – Attendancy in the Autumn School for Social Journalism at the Journalism School Walter Tobagi.

2016 – Graduation in the Classical High School at the Institute Vittoria Colonna, with the evaluation of 100/100.

Work Experience

Since September, 2020, he is Junior Fellow in the project “Fabbrica dei Talenti”, by Adapt Foundation

Professional Skills

Scientific writing of articles and contributions in Italian and in English, philosophical and sociological research both in English and in French (beyond Italian).

Knowledge about Ethics and Philosophy of Law, and about those of Market and Labour.

Language Skills

EXPERT/C1 level of the CEFR in English language, gained with the Toefl iBT certification (99/120).

Good knowledge in French language

Basic knowledge in Spanish language

IT Skills

XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX
XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX XXXXX

Personal and Social Skills

Generous, stable, active, truth-telling, careful, curious, I have a firm faith in the value of the dialogue as the lone, reliable mean to get to truth, I can work quite well either alone either, if necessary, in groups, I use to be independent in work organisation. I can be identified as an analitical mind, capable of critical thought and continuously searching real solutions to needs birth by actual situations.

Awards and e Acknowledgments

- 08/2020: La vita nei suoi atti on the online blog by the Philosophy Library (<https://bibliofilosofiamilano.wordpress.com/>) which can be read at the following link: <https://bibliofilosofiamilano.files.wordpress.com/2020/07/saggio-caccialanza.pdf>
- 08/2020: L'essere formale dell'idea in Spinoza on the online review "Foglio Spinoziano" (www.fogliospinoziano.it), which can be read at the link: http://www.fogliospinoziano.it/wp-content/uploads/2012/10/Articolo-Caccialanza.pdf?fbclid=IwAR2coO1ht_kDfBYWu7nhkFBJiuqKmx0r2CQmRu0bWdO5d31mKPFiLw-oo84

Non-professional Interests

Culture in the Humanities: I'm interested in almost all the extension of the philosophical debate of nowadays, and I read lot of eterogeneous contributions. I'm thouroughly asserting the necessity of innovating some paradigms in the transcultural dialogue.

Pedagogy and formation: I have since decades a continue experience in the catechetic paths given by the parrish of mine, as well as in animation experiences.

Sport: I've been playing football for ten years, and I've acquired basic skills in climbing, swimming and cycling.

Missionarity and anthropological research: I spent one month in Shire, Ethiopia, within a Christian reality, and I'm massively involved with the Association In Missione Onlus, especially in the branch of Amici del Sidamo. I see in anthropology the main way to gain knowledge of cultural difference.

References

Rossella Fabbrichesi, Full Professor in Theoretical Philosophy at the University of Milan (rossella.fabbrichesi@unimi.it).

Michele Tiraboschi, Full Professor in Labour Law and in Industrial Relationships Law at the Department of Economics "Marco Biagi", at the University of Modena and Reggio Emilia (tiraboschi@unimore.it)